STARCRAFT

1986 Medalist Series

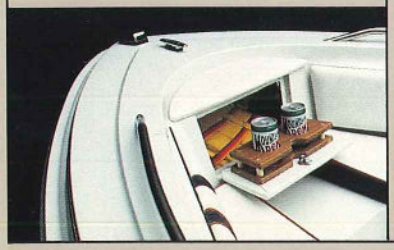
Medalist

Starcraft's luxury package in a fine fiberglass runabout.

You won't find a long list of options for any of the three boats in Starcraft's Medalist Series. That's because there aren't any.

Starcraft Medalists come pre-packaged with everything you, the pleasure boater could possibly want in a boat. And Starcraft brings them to you at incredibly low prices.

Take a look at Medalist from bow to stern.



The open bow has stainless steel bow rails and (on the 1901) a storage compartment, which opens to reveal beverage holders. There's storage under the plush bow seats, too.

Walk through the open windshield and note the console. It has full, Command Instrumentation, with tach, speedometer, trim indicator and fuel gauge. You'll also see controls for the other standard features like the bilge pump, blower and power trim.

You'll notice you're stepping on plush, marine grade carpeting. Sink into one of the luxuriant seats. They're actually adjustable sleeper seats that you can fold down for sunbathing or just plain relaxing.

You'll also see the big, floor storage compartment with a teak lid, and even more storage space in the side panels. And just when you're thinking that this boat's absolutely great for a picnic/ski excursion, lift up the teak pads in the stern of the 1901. They're icewells for your favorite food and beverages.

Check out the stern jump seats and swim platform with teak step plates. And the running lights that make our Medalists perfect for evening cruises.

But we haven't told you about the construction. The I.O.'s have seven layers of molded fiberglass (five in the Outboard) reinforced at critical stress points. Floor
